7. All students who apply to Durham Tech, must also go through the Residency Determination Service (a state-wide service that assists all students applying to schools in North Carolina) to be evaluated for which level of tuition they will have to pay (in-state or the higher out of state tuition rate). Once students complete the questions of the residency determination service, they will be given an RCN that will allow them to then complete and submit the Durham Tech application.

- We are aware of difficulties with Samsung devices using the Firefox browser. We do not recommend completing the RDS interview using this combination.

I understand the helpful hints.

CONSENT AND AUTHORIZATION

North Carolina General Statute §116-143.1 sets forth the specific standards for determining resident status for tuition purposes. Session Law 2015-241 authorized the State Education Assistance Authority ("SEAA") to perform all functions necessary to implement the coordinated and centralized process to apply the criteria in G.S. §116-143.1 and directed the State community college and university systems to take the necessary actions to facilitate an orderly transition from the previous campus-based residency determination system to this coordinated and centralized process.

I understand that the Residency Determination Service ("RDS") will validate the information that I provide. The validation process supports the determination of residency and helps limit the number of documents I must submit. Once validation is successful, my residency classification is complete. If validation of my information fails, my residency status will be "non-resident" and an "out-of-state" tuition rate will apply RDS reserves the right to correct any determination(s) made in error. I understand and acknowledge that the Residency Determination Service may require me to submit my own personal information and personal information from my parent(s), legal guardian(s), or spouse (collectively "Personal Information") in order to determine my residency classification.

I certify that before I submit any information from my parent(s). Jepal ouardian(s), or spouse. I have obtained each and all of their individual consents and authorizations to disclose their Personal Information in accordance with the following:
